REID.

On Friday afternoon at six o'clock Mr. James Oliver Reid died at his residence on Richmond street, the end coming peacefully after a lingering illness of several months. The last five weeks of his life were ones of intense suffering, which he bore bravely, and often spoke of passing from time to eternity without fear.

Mr. Reid was born in Madison county, August 20th, 1854. He was a son of Andrew Reid and Luvina Carpenter. He was the last of a family of four, two sisters and one brother preceding him to the grave.

He married Miss Mary Rose, of this county, who died April 14th, 1901, leaving him four small girls, just as he and they needed her most. Thus we see he had led a practically and life, having no interests outside of his home, trying to be a mother and father to the children left him.

The esteem in which he was held by his neighbors was evinced by the kindly and untiring attention shown in his last illness. The love shown by the two daughters, who were able to be with him, was evinced by their devotion and tender care, ministering to him until the last.

He was a member of the Baptist church and the services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. S. G. Callison assisted by Rev. J. R. Moorman, after which the body was laid to rest in the Lancaster cemetery last Sunday afternoon.

Tender sympathy goes out to the daughters in their deep bereavement.

KHAKI COLUMN

These two splendid boys whose pictures we run in this issue, are sons of Mr. J. T. Holtzclaw, of this county and are now doing duty for their country.

Sargeant James Edwin Holtzclaw.

Ed as he is familiarly known, was one of the first ten boys who left "Old Garrard," having volunteered to go at that time although he was very much farther down the list of registrants.

He was stationed at Camp Taylor until April 27th, when he was transferred to Camp Upton, N. Y., from which place he sailed the 4th of June for over sea duty. He writes that he is enjoying the best of health and is striving to do his "bit" for his country.

His present address is, 32 Engineers, Company B., A. E. F.

John B. Holtzclaw.

This is the youngest son and volunteered for the service on July 9th, and was sent immediately to Paris Island, N. C., he having chosen the Marines to do his fighting for "Uncle Sam."

John graduated from the High school here in 1916, with the highest honors of his class. He is exceedingly popular and has a host of friends here who wish him god speed in the branch of the service he has chosen. His present address is, 261 Company, Marine Barracks, Paris Island, N. C.

We are indebted to our good friend Bascom C. Ford, for a copy of the "Trouble Buster," a Camp paper published at the U. S. General Hospital, No. 2, at Fort McHenry, Baltimore, where Mr. Ford is now stationed. The paper contains many interesting articles and at the head of its editorial column, says, "published weekly or whenever news is abundant and the printers are not on a forlough or A. W. O. L." Bascom has about recovered from a recent stomach trouble and is enjoying life to the fullest in this splendid hospital.

Mr. John M. Farra is in receipt of the following letter from our friend Homer J. Tinsley, which is interesting enough to be published, which we gladly do:

Stittton, Ky., Aug 2nd, 1918
Mr. J. M. Farra,
Lancaster, Ky.

Dear John—Why don't you send some of the boys down here to work?

The engineers were moved here from West Point last week and we are staking out hundreds of buildings railroad yards to hold 500 cars, about 20 miles of streets and cross sectioning, 7500 acres 100-500 feet.

Carpenters have begun work and already several buildings are going up. The construction quartermaster posted a sign this morning calling for 200 carpenters and 500 laborers. Sixty cents an hour for carpenters and 70cts and 80cts for foremen.

The artillery range is two miles East of here and we can get a faint, very faint, idea of life in the front line trenches, for we are working under the sound of the French "75s," and guns and large calibre, that boom constantly from seven to ten every morning while the machine guns rattle like a "lizzie" under a full throttle.

If you drive out on the road at night you are halted by a Sambo and ordered to "sidetrack" and let the artillery trucks by. They maneuver every night and have no lights—Getting the boys used to the dark, I guess.

It seems to be the general impression that the work here will not be developed, but moved to North Carolina. This doubtless originated from the newspapers, but there is no truth in it. The acetonment is being built here and you can tell anybody that they can come here with the assurance of getting work.

Many property owners have been notified to vacate within 30 days and some have already moved.

Very Truly,
H. J. Tinsley.

Friends of Louis Tindler will be glad to hear from him through the following interesting letter which he has written the Central Record. Lou volunteered into the service several months ago, June 1st to be exact, and was sent to Camp Lee, Va., where he has been ever since. He passed successfully through a critical operation and has now about recovered. His letter follows:

Base Hospital, Camp Lee, Va.
August 3rd, 1918
The Central Record,
Lancaster, Ky.

Dear Friend—I remember your request to send you a bit of camp news now and then, and would have written you before if there had been anything of interest that had come to my notice but, as you may already know, most of my time has been spent in the hospital ever since my arrival here, and therefore my budget of news is limited to the ward to which I have been assigned. Now, hospital news is mighty uninteresting but I thought you might like to hear how happy I was made just the other day by a letter from home which enclosed the affectionate and kindly greetings of almost a whole regiment of friends in Garrard County.

I most earnestly hope that you may never come to realize the awful tediousness of ward hospital life, but if you ever should, you will then know what cheering words from your friends mean to a fellow when he is tied up in a hospital.

This is what happened. Last Sunday five automobile loads of friends surprised Father and Mother with a visit. After attending church services in the morning the whole party took possession of our lawn, where they spread picnic refreshments, and gave the family a delightful evening. They did not forget "yours truly" either, because yesterday I received a cheery word from every one of them written while they were at my home. This makes me very happy.

Give my best regards to all my friends and believe me,
Most sincerely yours,
Louis G. Tindler.

GARRARD FAMILY GIVES FOUR SONS TO WAR.

The family of George M. Wilson of Paint Lick has given four sons to the war, two of whom are already overseas.

Hume Wilson is a Corporal with a brigade now somewhere in France. He writes back that the climate is excellent and the French people gentle, that "on the way over they were attacked by a 'tin fish' but succeeded in feeding it some fatal bread."

J. E. Wilson is now in a Selected Officers Training Camp in South Carolina.

Dr. C. B. Wilson is a Second Lieutenant and was recently called to service at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

Corporal Gilbert Wilson has been overseas for some time, and was seriously injured June 5th, while in camp back of the lines. The latest report received was that the gravely injured, he has a fair chance of recovery.

It is interesting to note that the grand-father of these four boys fought for the cause of the Union in the War of '61, and was Captain of the Eighth Kentucky Infantry which won prominent distinction at the battle of Lookout Mountain.

HOW OUR BOYS FIGHT SHOWN IN U. S. FILM.

Seats will be in great demand at Bohannan Opera House for "Pershing's Crusaders," the United States Official War Film, which will be shown there next Wednesday afternoon and night.

When shown in other cities these films were the object of unusual interest, and the engagements were marked by capacity business. America's part in the war both at home and abroad is shown in interesting detail. One of the most striking portions of the film is that of the American soldiers at the front. They are shown in the front line trenches, taking part in the actual grim activities "Pershing's Crusaders" is distributed by the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc.

A TRIBUTE TO CLAYTON ANDERSON ARNOLD.

The oldest son of Thompson M. and Margaret Mills Arnold was born October 27th, 1867, and passed from earth July 12th, 1918 at his home which had been the center of his happiness for so many years. In his private life he was a pure, upright, honorable man. His constancy and loyalty to his friends were remarkable. There never lived a more dutiful and loving brother and son. His love and reverence for his parents, particularly his mother, in her old age, were beautiful. As a citizen he was held in high esteem by all who knew him, he was the soul of honor. With him, right was right, and wrong was wrong, as he saw the right that was his side, none other.

The great sufferer he was kind and cheerful, ever looking on the bright side, and at the end, he was patient and resigned.

By his passing the county has lost a good citizen, his family a loving husband and father. Such a life was not lived in vain but it is difficult to estimate the value of such a life as his.
